

USS Celebrates a Successful First Year in Mexico

RANCHO CUCAMONGA, Calif. (December 17, 2015) – USS, a global leader in product protection and security services and solutions, has announced that its International Division has finished its first year in Mexico by exceeding its sales projections. USS will continue to expand its offerings to other countries in Latin America, given the impact USS has seen in the market.

“Latin America needs a strategic company like USS to strengthen its security and loss prevention industry, and I’m looking forward to establishing USS as the leader in every new market we enter,” said Javier Campos, vice president of USS’ International Division. “Our entry into Mexico has been extremely successful, and we’re planning to replicate those achievements in other countries.”

“USS’ team in Mexico, lead by Javier Campos, exceeded everyone’s expectations this year,” said Doug McHose, USS’ president. “They’ve met all their goals way ahead of schedule, and finished the year with sales far above projections. Most importantly, our new customers and partners in Mexico have responded so positively to USS offerings, that we are now gearing up to open new offices throughout the region.”
